THE Bee Hive is moving to-day from Sutton to Second street.

WANTED at this office a good boy 14 or 15 years old. Apply at once.

THE Heiser Hotel building has been converted into a regular Bee Hive.

THE Bee Hive will close to-morrow in order to remove their stock to their handsome new location.

POWER & REYNOLDS sell Hawke's celebrated eye glasses—best in the market. Every pair guaranteed. o22dt

MISS ELIZA COOK, the authoress of that old familiar poem "The Old Arm Chair," died recently at her home in England, aged 71.

ROSENBAU BROS., proprietors of the Bee Hive, have commenced moving into their new quarters in the old European Hotel building. They will have a grand opening next week.

BICYCLISTS, ponder well what Dr. Agnew, of Portsmouth, says of the diversion that so delights you: "Show me a man who rides a bicycle or velocipede, and I'll show you a case of spinal complaint."

A LARGE invoice of silk umbrellas with the newest and handsomest designs in rolled gold and solid silver handles, just opened at Ballenger's. Call and examine them, and ask to see the elegant solitaire diamond set, on which he gives a ticket with every dollar's worth purchased.

A DOG was seen yesterday chasing a rabbit on Second street, near Limestone. The dog did lots of barking while the rabbit held its breath and got away. The bottoms near Second street extension are said to be full of rabbits and the small boys will have lots of fun when the snow comes so they can track them.

THE West Superior Inter-Ocean says: "There is a lady in Milwaukee who is the mother of nine children. None of them was named until it was 12 years old. They were simply called by their nick-names and their numbers, 'One,' 'Two,' etc. When they were 12 years old each one chose his own name and was baptized."

DIAMONDS of the finest quality and newest mounting. Watches made by the best makers. Jewelry of the best quality can always be bought for less money at Hopper & Murphy's, than elsewhere. With every dollar's worth bought you get two tickets which entitles you to "two" chances on the elegant diamond earrings worth $500.

CAPTAIN JOHN T. MARTIN, of the old Red Corner Clothing House begs leave to inform his friends and the public that Hauke's Band will, if the weather is favorable, to-morrow evening at 7:30 o'clock render in front of his store the open air concert which the rain prevented them from giving last week. Turn out and hear some fine music.

In speaking of the mighty organ that went up in the flames when the Brooklyn Tabernacle burned, the Rev. Talmage, in one of his famous sermons said: "I am sure that majestic organ had a soul, for we have often heard it speak and sing and shout and wail, and when the soul of that organ entered heaven I think Handel, and Hayden, and Mozart, and Mendelssohn, and Beethoven were at the gates to welcome it."

JUDGE S. E. DeHAVEN, of the Shelby Circuit, made the following remarks, in his charge to the grand jury recently: "Idleness is the greatest curse of the age—from it results so many of the crimes of the day. Let the father keep his son in employment or at school until he is twenty-one years of age, and I would be willing to go that young man's security that he would become an honest, upright, truthful citizen. But at the age of sixteen give him all the spending money he wishes, a shot-gun and a pointer dog, and the devil will have a mortgage on him before he is nineteen."

A LATE decision of the Court of Appeals holds that "plucking match-a" is a game that is punishable under the law. Under that decision shaking dice for drinks would also be punishable as well as the game "sugar and fly." The latter game is indulged in mainly by cigarette smokers, who have placed in the center of a table as many lumps of sugar as there are players and each betting on a fly lighting on his lump of sugar first.—Covington Commonwealth.

COLONEL ROBERT G. INGERSOLL is a great admirer of the play entitled "Clover," and he recently sent its manager, Ben Stevenson, a note which read: "A wonderful word is 'clover.' Drop the c and you have the happiest of mankind. Take away the c and r and you have the only thing that makes a heaven of this dull barren earth. Cut off the r alone and there remains a warm, deceitful bud that sweetens breath and keeps peace in countless homes, whose masters frequent clubs. After all, Bottom was right. 'Good hay, sweet hay, hath no fellow.'"

THE Woodford Argus is responsible for the following: "In Woodford County Mr. John D. Burns raised a large drove of turkeys this year and by placing a bell upon the old mother that led them he accustomed them to follow the sound. When the time came to work his tobacco field he removed the bell, placing it on his own waist, and while working his crop with the hoe the hungry turkeys followed the familiar tinkle of the bell, picking the stalks clean of the worms as they followed him up one row and down the other. The turkeys have done the work of five men and saved the crop."

ELI PERKINS, the originator of the far-famed expression: "Get there Eli." It is said of him rather than to break a date made to deliver a lecture he would, if necessary, spend ten times the amount to be realized in endeavoring to be promptly on hand. He has been known, in fact, to suffer great hardships, wending his way through snow and ice, to avoid disappointing an audience. This gives rise to the expression that "Eli gets there," regardless of what happens. The sentence has been twisted around in many shapes. At present almost every urchin in the universe is familiar with it, and yells out, "Get there, Eli!" "Eli gets there!" etc.

THE late Andrew J. Geiger, of Philadelphia, left an estate valued at $250,000. His will provides for the erection of an obelisk over his grave. The panel on the east side is to contain his name, age and date of death. The north panel will bear this inscription: "Traveled 60,000 miles in America, Europe, Asia and Africa." The south panel is to read: "Young man, stop and think. See what has been the reward of honesty, industry and economy. In 1840 I worked on Robert Martin's farm, near Jersey shore, for 25 cents a day. No fortune left to me." The west panel will say: "Lived and died in the faith of the immutable and unchangeable and Nature's God. Believed in the Gospel of Peace, Right and Justice."

THE Kentucky Board of Health has issued a circular letter in view of the unusual prevalence of diphtheria. The letter states that the spread of the disease can be prevented; that patients should be secluded in sunny, well-ventilated plainly furnished rooms, disconnected so far as possible with the rest of the house, and a blue flag or card with the word "diphtheria" on it posted. Cloths upon which secretions from the diseased parts are received should be burned or immediately immersed in chloride of lime of six ounces to the gallon of water. Linen used about patients should be, immediately upon removal, boiled or immersed in chloride of lime. At the close of a case thorough disinfection should be perfected by burning mattresses and comforts, boiling other bedding and burning sulphur in the room.

THE Paris correspondent of the Courier-Journal says: "There is quite a stir in this county over the report that C. P. Huntington is trying to buy the Kentucky Midland Railroad between Paris and Frankfort, and not continue the road to the Virginia line. This road would be in opposition to the Chesapeake and Ohio, and, of course, it is his aim to cut off all competition lines. It is more than likely that Mr. Huntington will get the road, and if he will locate the machine shops here it would afford some consolation to our people."

"Rails on the Kentucky Midland are now laid from Georgetown to Newtown, and the road will be completed to the city limits of Paris by November 20, the time specified in the contract with the county in order to obtain the $250,000 subscription. Mr. Millet, who has been in charge of the section near Paris, has had considerable trouble with his hands, but will be through by the above date. His men are mostly Hungarians, and are very troublesome to work. A few days ago, one hundred of them struck, but were induced to go to work again after being off a couple of days."

OUR NEIGHBORS.

HELENA.
 James Cord, of Poplar Flat, Lewis County, spent a few days here last week.
 Large crowds attended, both William and John Collins' sale Friday and Saturday.
 Squire Camell, of Muse's mill, was with us Friday and Saturday.

Rev. M. Edmons, of Carlisle, will begin a protracted services in the Christian Church Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, October 30th, assisted by Rev. J. C. Waldron, of Cynthiana.

Miss Ada Rice entertained a few guests Friday night. Among them was our old friend Buckner, of Mt. Glead, accompanied by Mrs. Johnson of this place.

Our friend Grant Kiptrink was here Saturday night on his last trip, assessing the good people of Mason.

Edward Cord and sister, Miss Mary, visited in Elizaville Sunday.

Mrs. Julia Calvert returned to her home in Tollesboro Sunday after a few days visit with friends and relatives here.

Chas. Gault, is again spending a few days with his parents near Washington.

ORANGEBURG.
 We have had very gloomy days commencing Friday and continuing until Monday morning.

There is some hog cholera in this neighborhood. Bayless Debeli has lost all of his meat hogs but one, and his shoats have commenced dying.

Birds and rabbits are very plentiful around here, but the cause of it is, all the farmers are poor and do not allow hunting on their farms.

Dr. Ford killed fourteen birds at fifteen shots one day last week.

Ollie Tolle and Lou Bullock went to Flemingsburg Monday. They took three young horses to try to sell.

There are two weddings talked of here to come off between the 1st and 10th of November.

There was no preaching in town Sunday on account of the holy meeting on at Mt. Carmel.

John Roe, Jr., has two of his children down with diphtheria.

There is some sickness here, but not as much as usual at this time of year.

MT. CARMEL.
 Mrs. Nannie Henderson returned home last Monday, after spending some weeks at Newport.

Mr. A. R. Glascock, of Maysville, was the guest of D. A. Glascock Sunday.

Clarence Powers, who is attending school at the Kentucky Wesleyan College at Millersburg, was home the latter part of last week.

Mrs. D. P. Glascock has returned from Maysville.

James Means and George Boyd were in town Thursday evening.

Chicken thieves visited the hen-roost of J. R. Turner Thursday night and succeeded in getting away with two dozen of the fowls. No clue to the thieves.

Steven Taylor, of Pleasant Valley, Lewis County, and Will Strohbecker, of Rectorville, were the guests of Mrs. L. G. Kelly Sunday.

Miss Alma Riggen, of Rectorville, was here last week attending the Holiness Convention.

Samuel Foxworthy, who is at work near Helena, was at home Saturday evening on a short stay.

O. J. Brown, of Cincinnati, returned to his home at this place Saturday, after a visit of two months at this place.

A protracted meeting has commenced at the lower end of town at the Christian Church, and another at the upper end at the M. E. Church, South, under the evangelist F. W. Hancock, of Tennessee.

The pupils of Prof. Lowe have organized a literary society to meet every two weeks. The next meeting comes off on Friday evening November 1st, and every one is expected to be entertained by a debate on the subject of "Woman's Suffrage." Everybody invited to come.

The Holiness Convention has come and gone. Some fifteen or twenty ministers were present and the house was full at almost every meeting. One minister professed the blessing of sanctification and several persons were converted. The next meeting will be held some time in January, but the place of meeting is not fully decided upon.

The report of the primary department under Boyd K. Muse for the month of October is as follows: Number enrolled, 23; average daily attendance, 20; cases of tardiness 42. An examination was held Friday, and the highest grade of the room was obtained by Blanche Quigley, with an average of 92 per cent. The scholars are taking great interest in their work and the attendance is good. The patrons are respectfully invited to visit the school.
